

WEDNESDAY 1ST JANUARY

Went to school, did my homework, drank some blood. Another typical day at our coven.

Mr Dashwood gave us a history lesson this morning. It was really boring, just an endless list of famous vampires, the dates they transformed and the ways they were destroyed.

I can still hear him droning on now. 'Staked, beheaded, fried. Staked, beheaded, survived...'

There was no reason for the lesson to be so dull. We've got such an amazing
